Calvin G. Weaver

SEPTEMBER 26, 1940 - NOVEMBER 30, 2024

Calvin Gene Weaver, age 84, of Jordan, Montana, passed away on November 30, 2024, at the Garfield County Health Center in Jordan. He was born on September 26, 1940, in Jordan to Victor and Marguerite Weaver. Calvin, along with his brother Roger, was raised on the family farm in Brusett, where he developed a deep love for country living and farming.

Calvin attended Blackfoot School through the 8th grade, where his class consisted of only six students. He then moved to town to live in the dormitory while attending Jordan High School. On weekends, if he wasn't at home, Calvin would visit his grandparents or spend time with his Aunt Wilma and Uncle Herschel Riley, playing with his cousins, Kay and Lyn.

After graduating from Jordan High School, Calvin moved to Havre to attend college. He earned a bachelor's degree in industrial arts, which marked the beginning of his teaching career. Calvin moved to California, where he met Edith, the love of his life. They were married on August 27, 1966, in Havre, Montana, and together had two children: a son, Michael, and a daughter, Charlynn.

The family settled in Porterville, California, where Calvin began a 30-year career as a high school teacher at Monache High School. During his years of teaching, Calvin and Edith also bought a 30-acre orchard farm, growing walnuts, prunes, and almonds.

Calvin would spend his days teaching and his evenings tending to the farm—a labor of love.

In the summer, he would return to Montana to help harvest wheat on the family farm in Brusett. This dual farming life between California and Montana continued until 1990, when Calvin and Edith sold their farm in California and moved to Roundup, Montana, where they bought a new farm and continued farming until Calvin's health no longer allowed.

In his later years, Calvin was diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease. He was able to remain at home with the loving care of his wife, Edith, for as long as possible. Eventually, he moved to the Garfield County Nursing Home, where he received exceptional care for the last year and a half of his life.

Calvin is survived by his wife of 58 years, Edith; son Michael (Kathy) Weaver; daughter Charlynn Davidson; grandchildren Sean and Justin Mendoza, and Emily and Eleanor Weaver; and great grandchildren Kira and Marley Mendoza. He was preceded in death by his parents, Victor and Marguerite Weaver, and his brother Roger Weaver.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that memorials be made in Calvin's name to the Weaver Family Memorial Fund, which will be used to support the Garfield County Health Center. Instructions: Payable to Weaver Family Memorial Fund. Mail to Garfield County Bank, PO Box 6, Jordan, MT 59337.
